Mobile lifting & tipping solutions

Backsaver specializes in the manufacture of high-quality stainless-steel lifting and tipping machinery. Designed to meet the strict hygiene and safety regulations of the food industry, our machines are now a trusted solution for companies across various sectors around the globe. Backsavers enhance efficiency, improve workplace safety, and optimize production processes. Being mobile, makes them a flexible solution for dynamic production environments. With a wide range of upgrades, our machines seamlessly integrate into any production line. The Backsaver brand was born out of a growing demand for easy-to-use material handling solutions. It is an offshoot from the “van Oirschot Roestvrijstaal” company, a family business established in 1948, a specialist in stainless-steel custom work. A Backsaver machine does exactly what its name implies: it makes light work of repetitive manual labour while reducing the risk of workplace injuries.
